MoreThanAJob

Second Year Achievements

Train the trainer workshops

15 accredited trainees from all partner countries have been trained to transfer the knowledge and assist in the uptake of the MoreThanAJob framework, through the organized cross-border train-the-trainer workshops.

Training seminars have been organized for Social and Solidarity Economy (SSE) actors in the field of unemployment, as well as in the field of refugees and migrants support.

Training seminars for SSE actors

Public administration (PA) officers have been trained to plan and implement social service delivery, in collaboration with the SSE actors.

Training seminars for PA actors

MoreThanAJob launched open call for sub-grants to promote social and employment inclusion of vulnerable groups.

Opening of the call for sub-grants

Choosing the 10 winning applications which will become our success stories, and reference models to enhance cooperation projects between SSE actors and public administrations.

Launching of the sub-granted projects

Social inclusion policies have been improved, and developed, after consultation with the public administration representatives.

New/improved social inclusion policy suggestions

Continuous monitoring of the content uploaded on the portal and the engagement of the registered actors.

Updating and regular feeding of MoreThanAJob portal

For updating the press and stakeholders about the goal of the project, planned, and implemented activities, expected achievements, and opportunities.

Workshops, press conferences, press releases

Common workshops and meetings with other similar projects for transferring & exchanging of knowledge, and diffusion of good practices for project's capitalization activities.

Synergies & Capitalization activities

Development of the project second policy brief, describing the way that project results could be integrated in future policies, in order to have an increased impact and ensure continuation of activities.

Policy Brief

Advertising campaigns have been organized for communicating on the opening of the call for sub-grants, the starting of the sub-granted projects and the possibility for the final users to benefit from them, and the availability and launch of the portal.
